Letter from the FOUNDER

Vishnu Vaghela

FOUNDER TRUSTEE

It gives me immense pleasure to share the journey and work of Sarva Manav Seva Charitable Trust through this annual report. Our trust was started with a simple belief that every person deserves care, dignity, food, shelter, and an opportunity to live a better life. Over the years, with the support of many kind-hearted people, we have been able to reach homeless individuals, abandoned elderly people, needy families, and children who require educational support.

This year, we continued our efforts in rescuing helpless people from the streets and connecting them with safe shelters and ashrams. We also distributed daily food packets to people who struggle for basic meals. Alongside these activities, our evening education classes supported children from economically weaker families by helping them learn English, science, creativity, and life skills.

I sincerely thank our donors, volunteers, partners, and community members for standing with us and strengthening our mission. Your trust and support motivate us to continue working with dedication and compassion. Together, we can create a more caring and inclusive society for everyone.

Sarv Manav Seva Charitable Trust has been continuously working to support homeless, abandoned, and vulnerable people who are living in difficult conditions. Many elderly people, mentally unstable individuals, and helpless persons are found living alone on roadsides, railway stations, bus stands, public places, and open areas without food, medical support, or shelter. In many cases, these individuals have been separated from their families, neglected due to poverty, illness, old age, or other personal difficulties. The trust has taken consistent efforts to identify such people and provide them with immediate support and care.

The team members and volunteers regularly visit different areas to identify individuals who require urgent help. Whenever a helpless person is found, the trust first provides basic assistance such as food, drinking water, clothes, and medical attention if required. Many individuals are found in weak physical condition and need immediate care and emotional support.

The trust believes that every person deserves respect and dignity, irrespective of their social or economic condition. Therefore, all support activities are carried out with compassion and humanity.

Food Distributions

Sarv Manav Seva Charitable Trust regularly distributes food packets to helpless, homeless, and abandoned people who are unable to manage their daily meals. The initiative mainly supports elderly individuals living alone, people found on roads, labourers, and other needy persons facing difficult situations.

The trust distributed around 5,000 food packets in different urban areas of vadodara district during this year. Approximately average 40 individuals benefited from the food distribution activities conducted regularly by the trust. Special distribution drives were also organized during festivals, winter season, and emergency situations to support people in need.

Through this initiative, the trust continues to provide not only meals but also care and support to vulnerable people in the community.

Education

Trust conducts evening educational support classes for children studying from 5 to 12 years especially for students from economically weaker families. The programme helps children improve their learning skills and overall development beyond regular school education.

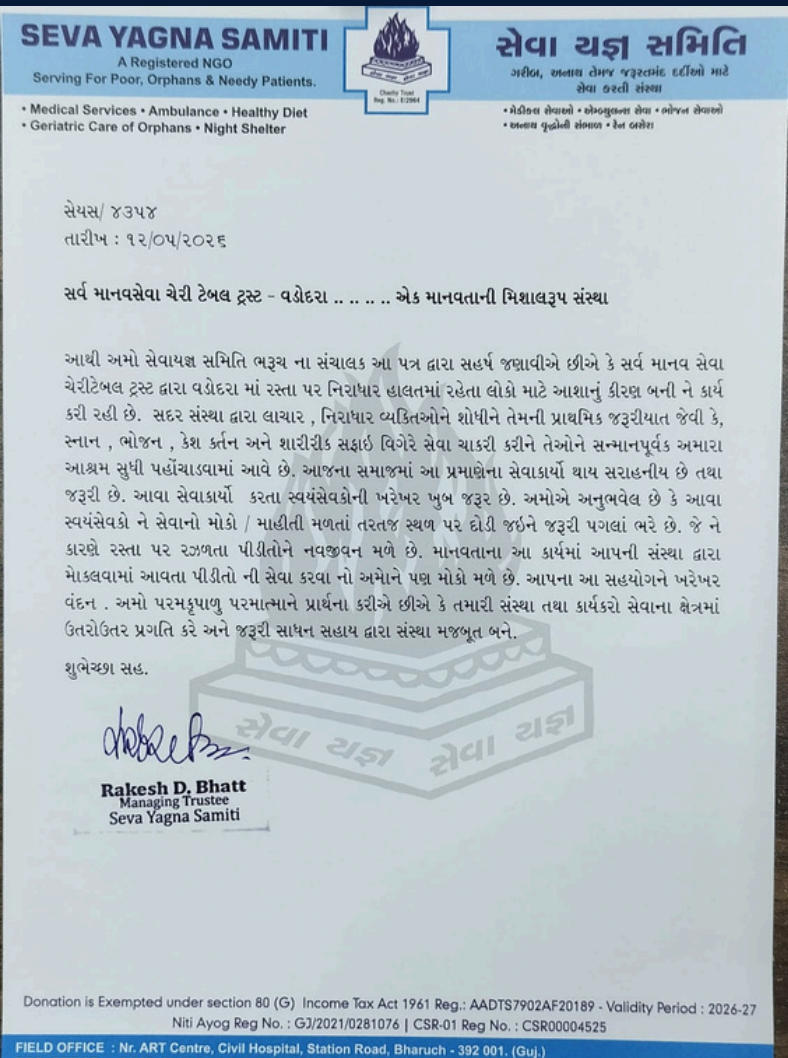

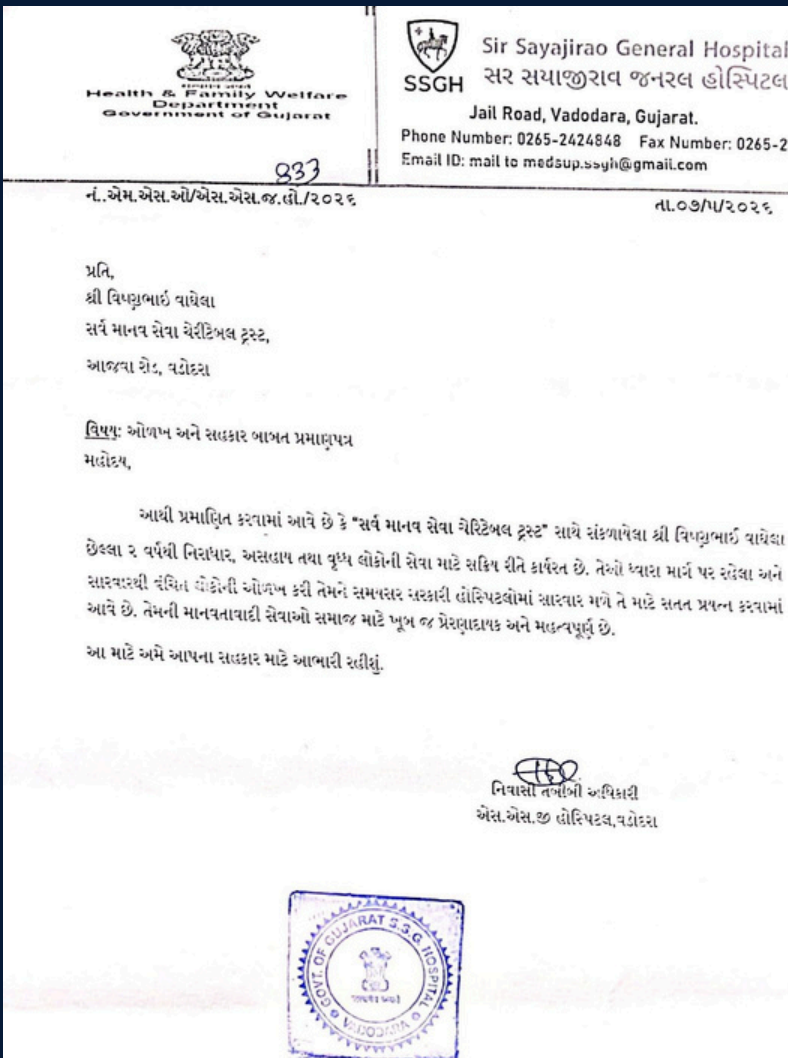

The classes include English speaking and reading practice, basic computer awareness, science experiments, mathematics support, art and craft activities, personality development, and career guidance sessions. Students are also encouraged to participate in creative learning activities, group discussions, and educational games to build confidence and communication skills.

The trust aims to create a positive learning environment where children can gain knowledge, improve their confidence, and prepare for better educational and career opportunities in the future.

Future Outlook

Sarv Manav Seva Charitable Trust aims to expand its humanitarian and community development activities in the coming years. The trust plans to establish a dedicated shelter and care centre for homeless and abandoned individuals while strengthening support for elderly people in need. Future initiatives will focus on education support, women empowerment, livelihood promotion, sustainable agriculture, and nutrition awareness through CSR partnerships and community participation. The trust also plans to introduce skill development activities, health support services, and innovative learning opportunities for children and youth. Through these efforts, the organization hopes to create sustainable and inclusive social development in the community.

Future Plan

Sarv Manav Seva Charitable Trust plans to establish a new ashram for homeless and abandoned individuals while expanding CSR-supported activities in agriculture, education, women empowerment, and elder care. The trust also aims to introduce innovative community development initiatives, skill-building programs, and sustainable livelihood opportunities for vulnerable and underprivileged communities.

Innovation

Trust focuses on innovative community-based solutions to support vulnerable people through rescue services, food distribution, educational support, and social care activities. The trust encourages volunteer participation, practical learning for children, sustainable support systems, and collaborative CSR initiatives to create long-term social impact in underserved communities.
